

Service fees and fee codes for Saskatchewan Workers' Compensation Board kinesiological service providers

These WCB fees and fee codes apply when kinesiologists accredited to provide primary-level services bill for services delivered to WCB customers.

Bill prorated service fees in 10-minute units of care and round the total up to the next full 10-minute unit. One intervention in the WCB's soft tissue guidelines equals one unit of care. Use the rounding privilege in an ethical manner. Do not bill any portion of a unit of care more than once.

When the WCB sets a prorated fee, bill using the major portion thereof method. At least half of the minimum time stated in the code must pass before you bill an additional unit.

For all time-based fee codes, include stand and end times in the chart notes. The WCB may audit the records and invoices of any care provider who delivers service to a WCB customer.

- There is a collective minimum, including the biomechanical provider and kinesiologist time, of 20 minutes and up to 60 minutes per day as indicated in the fee codes identified by an asterisk.
- There is a collective weekly limit, including the biomechanical provider and kinesiologist time, of 120 minutes per calendar week for workers working full hours (excluding treatment time) as indicated in the fee codes identified by an asterisk.
- There is a collective weekly limit, including the biomechanical provider and kinesiologist time, of 180 minutes for workers not back to full hours (excluding treatment time) in the workplace as indicated in the fee codes identified by an asterisk.
